Lockdown Edition 3

Dear Friends,

Vicar's Thought

May is a delightful month when the dawn chorus of bird song reaches its full crescendo and there are signs of new life everywhere. There are new lambs in the fields, ducklings in the streams and the first sightings of the swallows' arrival. It's a time to plant out the seedlings and everywhere people are vigorously attending to their vegetable plots and gardens. It is a time of hope and anticipation for the new season, that this year it will be the best ever!

The Bible is full of stories about people who had hope when faced with the challenge of the changes in their daily lives. Challenges that could bring them either growth and success or failure by the choices they made. There are moments in these stories with which we can all identify with and which cause us to reflect and think further especially during this global crisis.

On the 21st May, the Christian Church celebrates Ascension Day, a day when they remember Jesus' ascension into heaven. It is one of the earliest festivals dating back to the first early church, which marks the conclusion of Jesus' earthly ministry and the beginning of his new heavenly phase.

In his resurrection ministry we receive a fresh hope for a new season in our daily lives knowing that Jesus ever intercedes on our behalf more so at times like now.

With love in Christ,

Rev Julie Coleman

St. John's News & Updates

UPDATE FROM ST JOHN'S PCC AND EVENTS COMMITTEE

Due to the present Covid-19 situation, St John's PCC have made the difficult decision to cancel this year's Summer Fête and Christmas Market. However, we have booked in dates for next year. Next year's Summer Fête will be on Saturday 3rd July 2021 and the Christmas Market will be on Saturday 20th November 2021.

AUCTION OF PROMISES

Our Parish is awash with talent and kindness. Therefore we would like to invite the parish to come together for an online and brochured Auction of Promises for the whole community on 28th November 2020.

Could you promise or donate something for our auction? For example a cake, do someone's shopping, walk the dog, make a shopping bag from some materials, wash a car, cut a hedge, do weeding, make a picnic, donate a toy, donate a new gift, donate a voucher, paint a portrait, teach a lesson, make a Christmas Pudding, make some Christmas decorations, wash the windows etc. These are only ideas. If you would like some further information contact us on SJPGevents@gmail.com or at the parish office on 020 8886 0847.

TRIP DOWN MEMORY LANE....

Some of you may know that John Peace has great enthusiasm for the history and archives of St Johns. With his help we were able to complete a board depicting some of the journey of St John's has experienced throughout the centuries. We would like to continue this project when we return to church therefore, if you have any pictures, newspaper clips etc would you keep them and bring them into church so that we can photo copy them. Your help will be appreciated by us both. Thank you. Rev Julie

HELP NEEDED

I was contacted by a lovely lady called Anita on our church Facebook page, whose mother Pat Davies and grandmother Phyllis Piercy worshipped at St John's in the past. Phyllis made the beautiful Mothers' Union flag/banner/tapestry that we have.

Anita would like to come and see the tapestry once we are open again and once it is safe again to come out but I wonder if any of you remember either her mother or grandmother and whether you remember anything about them that we could share with Anita? She wrote the following: Mother's name was Diana 'Pat' Davis (nee Piercy) but I suspect it was my Nana who was most involved. Her name was Phyllis Piercy (nee Dines). She married Earnest, who was a policeman during WWII.

So if any of you can share anything that I can pass on to her, I think she would very much value and appreciate that! Thank you, Jenny Godfrey mrsjmgodfrey@gmail.com

CAKES, MARVELLOUS CAKES!

We have been delivering cakes to local care homes every Friday for a couple of weeks now, in order to support staff that are working so tirelessly and often make huge personal sacrifices in order to keep the people they care for safe and protected from Covid-19. If you would like to join the rota of bakers to bake a cake occasionally for one of the many local care homes we support, please let Rev Julie know. We would also like to say a big THANK YOU to all those who have already baked and helped deliver cakes! Your contributions are greatly appreciated.

WINTER NIGHT SHELTER

All the churches involved in Churches Together and the local community would like to thank all all those who have helped run shifts and cook meals for this year's night shelter. The shelter started in early January 2020 but with very few guests. As time went on, they ended up with the maximum number of twelve guests. As you are all aware due to COVID-19 and the government's requirements to ensure people remain safe and well, guests were re-accommodated in local hotels for the last session. We are thankful to them for making this happen.

This highlights a fantastic community effort!

ENVELOPES!

If you are part of the weekly giving envelope scheme and you would like to receive your new set of envelopes to put away your weekly donation despite the church closure, please let us know and we can get your envelopes to you! Thank you.

UPDATES ON HEARTS FOR OUR HOSPITALS

As we reported in our previous newsletter, we are looking for volunteers who can knit or crochet some little 6.5cm hearts for our Hearts for our Hospital cause. They will touch so many families in their time of grief. We received a card from North Middlesex hospital.

They can be packed in small freezer bags in pairs and delivered to The Beehive Pub, 24 Little Bury Street, Bush Hill Park borders, N9 9JZ. Collections will be made from there each Friday for as long as they are needed. If you are in a vulnerable group or isolating call/text Evie on 07905100797.

MEMOIRS

A thought on something to do during the lock down! Anyone interested in Family History will be well aware of how much one's family members know that you do not and how often one can regret not having talked to parents, and grandparents etc about their lives and gained information about their ancestors that is now no longer easily available.

Over the last few years I have had this in mind and tried to write about my early life with a view to recording family details and memories that might benefit my successors should they be interested. Currently I am finding time to recall and set down my experiences on being called up for National Service. It is quite surprising how much detail floats to the surface of your mind in the course of such writing and is a process that I am enjoying. I just thought that others might like to do something similar now that they might find the time to do it.

Regards Roger Gardener

Happy birthday to Rev Julie whose birthday is coming up this week! From all of us at St John's, we are sending you much love and many happy returns on this special lockdown-doorstep-party birthday! May you feel the love of your St John's family on this special day!

We have also celebrated Cathy and Richard's birthday, Deneice and Na'rae's as well as Beryl's birthday in April. Happy Belated Birthday!

Helen Sasia has been painting more over the last two weeks. These two paintings are both from photos that Steve Clayton took on his exercise ride in Trent Park!

Well done Helen!

Hi everyone,
We are just sending love, thoughts and prayers to everyone during this lockdown period, whether you're enjoying the quiet time/family time; or have sadly lost a loved one and also to those who are struggling through this time. We hope everyone is well and we all look forward to seeing you back in church when this is all over! We really really miss everyone in church! We also want to Thank Rev. Julie and the PCC for keeping us (in particular) feeling positive and loved during this time, and for our special gift!! We love it and we really love you all!! Thank you for the sermons every Sunday too. They're great!! During the quarantine we have celebrated 2 birthdays (myself and Na'rae) and have been doing some baking. Our 1st baking session, we made cheese puffs. A lot of mistakes and mess were made, but they came out edible considering. 😂

Kenzo enjoyed climbing on and off chairs and tables most of the time, but he did eventually participate with the baking! We look forward to baking something for you all. The pictures were from baking the cheese puffs. Please continue to take care and we are all praying for you all.

Lots and lots of love,
Deneice, Andre, Ria-René, Na'rae and Kenzo xx

Congratulations on another excellent newsletter production! I appreciate the amount of time and effort you put into it. Rev Julie's article about letterboxes reminded me of when we lived in a parish in rural Essex. Some of the ancient houses had no door furniture at all, having been built hundreds of years before Postal services started. There was perhaps a box screwed on to the wall, or a bucket in the porch, or you just pushed the door and shouted "Post"! The names of some houses were interesting too, sometimes no numbers, or even roads, a nightmare for postmen. As well as all the cottagey names,— Rose, Lavender, Magnolia etc.,— there were some more unusual offerings.

One was "Live and Let Live" and its neighbour was "Next Door to Live and Let Live"! I wonder if they're still called that, now that the area is covered by thousands of Stansted airport-related houses?

The 12th-century church key was about 10 inches long and very heavy, too big to go a pocket!

I hope these quirky examples of bygone ages will not be forgotten in this digital age, reminding us that we will survive, as people have survived plagues and other horrors over the centuries. Love to all, Margaret Walker.

Poet's Corner

A message from our poet and parishioner Steve Roberts:

Hope all is well with you all. Am fine and Angela got back from Ghana early Saturday morning. I have two for you this week. The first one, No Crown Without the Cross, relates to the Easter message.

The second one, Matriarch, I wrote I think in 2016, after we had a social with friends and family of Mrs Rebecca Mason. She and her husband were very active members of the St John's family. She moved closer to her children after her husband died, but a few of us kept in regular touch, she missed Palmers Green. She sadly died (not Covid related) on 28th April 2020, just 2 weeks from her 86th birthday. Rev. Julie will be taking her funeral this Friday.

No Crown Without the Cross

You cannot wear the crown
Unless you bear the cross
You cannot taste the victory
If you didn't battle through the struggle
You cannot know tomorrow
Unless you know tonight
The bitter pill of sorrow
Will lead you onto eternal joy
True goodness will follow you
After your struggles with life

Lockdown Stories...

Katrina Campbell has been photographing people on their doorsteps over the last 5 weeks and recording their stories of how they're adapting to lockdown. The stories provide an insight into the changes that everyone has to face, big and small. The images and stories are full of hope and positivity, alongside the reality. The stories seem to be striking a chord with others - people enjoy hearing of others' versions of a shared experience, and have been moved by the personal accounts. People with different experiences are now starting to contact her asking to be involved. She is now photographing a new household each day on her daily cycle ride. She would love more people to enjoy these stories. You can get in touch with her on: katrinacampbell1@me.com

Eme, keyworker, working from home:

"Yes, everything has changed for us. In the mornings, I no longer procrastinate for 30 minutes before happily swanning off to work, leaving my husband to take our 3 kids to school. I now wake and work, indulging in a different type of sidestep; I juggle work and periodically give the kids some attention. I no longer feel I have to dress sensibly or change out of my pyjamas first thing. It's all to play for. We have hunted down and are now using every device we ever owned or 'borrowed'."

"We both work in the public sector and are working from home. In my career, this is the busiest I have ever been. The proximity of working life and homeschooling has not given me a work life nirvana. Whilst you can't plan for a 'garlic bread' bust up, it's a worthy excuse for being late for a meeting. Initially, the kids were worried about people they know getting ill and not seeing their friends. They seem more reassured now, I think they're okay. They are spending more time on devices than they ever did. They are learning new skills because the slower pace means that the important jobs always saved for weekends, can be prioritised - from bike riding and baking to cleaning. Overall, I feel lucky, this is welcome confirmation that I am with the right person, which is not to be taken for granted. James is pleased to avoid his tedious morning commute but otherwise- "it's a bit of a net zero really".

On spending time as a family, the reality is that whilst we are both working, the three kids are wrapped in duvets being taught by the TV, our daily interactions are my periodic requests for coffee, and asking politely for the door to be shut on his way out of the room, after providing coffee or food. I miss seeing my family and friends, getting to go to work and play grown up. However we are both feeling very fortunate and lucky, despite the 'mild dissatisfaction' with our set up, and recognise the importance of saying 'thank you' and doing what we can, by staying at home."

An idea for your local walk...

New River Walk

We are very fortunate to live along the New River Path. We have re-discovered the walk along the river from Palmers Green, through Winchmore Hill and Bush Hill Park all the way to Enfield Town Park. It's such a stunning path with lots of wildlife to discover.

We can highly recommend it for a local walk outside, especially when the sun is shining.. It takes about an hour or longer if you take time to admire every little flower along the way as we are reminded to do by Samuel!

by Jenny Godfrey

THE NEW RIVER PATH

This (sub)urban walk follows part of the course of the New River, which isn't new and isn't exactly a river either. The man-made waterway opened in 1613 to supply London with fresh drinking water from the river Lea as well as various springs and wells along its course.

Over 400 years later, it still performs this function and is maintained by Thames Water. Members of the public can access the New River's banks for much of its route, although it's worth bearing in mind that it isn't a public right of way — the kissing-gates through which it can be reached from various roads are locked at night.

This means that the New River Path, which follows parallel roads where stretches of the river are inaccessible, doesn't appear as a dotted line on Ordnance Survey maps — the best thing to do is download the 15-page booklet as a PDF from Thames Water's website.

On the plus side, signage is pretty good — look out for the green signs with the words 'New River Path' on them.

The New River Path starts between Ware and Hertford and ends at the New River Head in Islington (a total of 28 miles), but for a lovely local walk follow it from Palmers Green (for instance the Hazelwood Lane entrance) to Enfield Town Park. It's beautiful.

Send us pictures of your favourite spaces or landmarks to be featured in the next issue!

Next Newsletter...

During this time of pandemic, we would like to make the newsletter a community newsletter that comes out more frequently (hopefully every 2 weeks) as we don't see each other. Our aim is that it will become a message of hope, something positive that shares the good things that are going on despite the sadness all around.

We also aim to make it a message of hope and togetherness. There is some church business, which we will report about but not very much. So we would like to ask for contributions from you, the congregation.

This is so that we can cheer each other on and be there when we can't see each other in person.

If you would like to contribute (and please please do as it only works when people do!), email us or text us.

We would love contributions of the following:

- prayers
- photos of what you are up to (projects you are working on, self-isolation silliness...)
- ideas for self-isolation
- Easter pictures - spreading joy and seeing each other when we are physically not able to be together
- messages of encouragement for those working on the front line
- any other messages you might have
- book/film recommendations
- recipes to try at home

We will then use a variety of items in each newsletter.

All submissions for the next newsletter should be sent to SJPGnews@gmail.com or texted/whatsapp-ed to Jenny Godfrey on 07814 321943 by 29th May.

The Comms committee reserves full editorial control. 😊
